WhitemarshUltraTree Website News and Updates
August 28, 2024

One and All:

The UltraTree LX Cheat Sheets are now visible. They were there all along. I just failed to get them shown by the Website software. With that is mind, I'm going to spend the next few days making sure that all items posted are visible and can be downloaded by active subscribers.

In early September, I'm going to publish a "work plan" that I will attempt to follow.

Fundamentally, here's how to get to all the download items through using the WhitemarshUltraTree website page and link connections.

In case you wonder, aMember (aMember.com) is the Membership management system Phil used and so I just continued its use. The process incorporated here is essentially in three "phases:"

1. Connect to the WhitemarshUltraTree website – you are in the WhitemarshUltraTree website.
2. Login via a button, UserName and Password Entry and validation — you are in the aMember sub website.
3. Auto transfer back to the WhitemarshUltraTree website for navigation to the download pages.

The aMember database is a MySQL database that is specially configured to manage memberships, billing and payments as well as user messages like the one you got a week or so ago that I posted as a pdf.

The navigation is:

https://www.whitemarshultratree.com/ — then press the LOGIN menu item

https://www.whitemarshultratree.com/LogInProcess.html – land here and press login again https://wiscorp.com/amember/login – Login to your Account. Do this with your User Name and Password then press Login to start the processing https://wiscorp.com/amember/member – aMember does your login validation. If OK then you end up at the Your Membership Information screen that is inside aMember. Choices are Logout, Change Password and Profile, See your Payment History, or press LoggedInCustomerProcesses.

https://whitemarshultratree.com/LoggedInCustomerProcesses.html – pressing this "button" gets you to the "joyful" lady screen. Now for a navigation to a download page, Select and press the ProductUseSupportDownload button. You can also logout, or proceed to the three product buttons that are described–BUT–the three buttons do NOT work as of this email.

https://whitemarshultratree.com/ProductUseSupportDownload.html – there are now Five download buttons. They all work and will give you an idea of what you will "eventually" be able to download.

The ones that NOW lead to you downloads are: CheatSheet, Training Course, and Technical Papers. Assuming you pressed Training Course button...

https://whitemarshultratree.com/ProductUseSupportTrainingCourseDownload.php – You now see the most recent picture from one of my Whitemarsh Database Training Classes.

Within that there are 12 (yes, TWELVE) buttons. Each button, when pressed leads to download content.

If you had pressed Training Course Business Information Systems you will see what I have been developing and teaching for the past near HALF CENTURY. Download as you wish. For Example, the Business Information System Architecture.PDF course was created for the Business School of the University of Maryland for their MBA degree.

I plan to slowly but surely update and then "deliver" all these courses in 30 minute "chunks" that you can download and a) make you go to sleep (see picture above), punish your fellow employees, relearn what you already know, or email me and say, "Mike that was a great course I really learned a lot." Now, since we are all professional IT people, I seldom expect that last alternative.
